WE HELP PEOPLE WITH THE THINGS THEIR BODY AND MIND NO LONGER ALLOW THEM TO DO.

When a person is frail or elderly, performing every day tasks can become impossible. That’s where Home Aides of Central New York begins. As a local non-profit leader of home health care services, our dedicated, compassionate caregivers help people with the things their mind and body no longer allow them to do. Through daily acts of kindness, our home health aides help them live with dignity and respect, in the comfort of their own home.

Our home health aides are friendly, compassionate, reliable, trustworthy individuals who are able to work independently. Their job is not always easy, but it is always rewarding.

If you think you have what it takes, we’d like to talk to you. Call us at (315) 552-JOBS or visit HomeAidesCNY.org/JOBS.

At Home Aides of Central New York, providing the highest quality care is at the center of our philosophy.

We are the largest, non-profit employer of home health aides in Central New York, and we help over 1,500 aging, ill and frail individuals every year.

Our home health aides assist many individuals with tasks such as bathing, medication reminders, meal preparation, housekeeping, and laundry or errands. We offer a variety of learning opportunities, from specialty care (Alzheimer’s disease/dementia, mental health, and hospice/end-of-life care), to LPN training.

By joining us, you’ll be entering into one of the fastest-growing careers in our community.
